

BABYSITTING

Training Course Caroline Family YMCA

Earn your babysitting certification from the American Red Cross. Whether you're just starting out or you've cared for your siblings for years and now want to start earning money or even build a business.

Red Cross Babysitting certification shows parents that you take your job seriously. During your training, you earn your First Aid and CPR/AED certifications (good for two years), which can help you learn how to provide care during an emergency.
